Our Foundation in Action

Just like any business, charitable organizations have general administrative and overhead costs. It was important for me to provide Interim Place with unrestricted support that serves their best interests.

GARY REAMEY

Funding for ‘essential expenses’ leads to long term sustainability.

Interim Place says, “Operational dollars are the most difficult to secure, but are essential to ensure programs and services are delivered to the women and children that we serve. Gary’s long-term commitment not only provides operational funding, it also lends credibility to the sustainability of our organization as we reach out to the community at large for donor support.”

Our approach

Many organizations are working for better communities, but a few important factors make our approach stand out:

We bring donors to the table as community builders

We help them formulate and realize their philanthropic goals, matching their interests and concerns with community needs and organizations. We help them find innovative and responsible ways to give their investments lasting impact.

We take the broadest view of what a community is and what it needs to succeed

That’s why our grants support everything from shelter, sustenance and care for those most in need, to recreation, the arts, and the environment.

We take the long-term view for our communities

We identify long-term needs and opportunities and invest in sustainable solutions, helping our communities become resilient, resourceful, and ready for the future they want.

We are members of Canada’s community foundation movement, represented by more than 180 community foundations from coast to coast. www.cfc-fcc.ca
