

Planning for the future – for you and your community

CHARITABLE REMAINDER TRUST

Giving through a Charitable Remainder Trust allows you to receive income for the rest of your life and provide a gift that will benefit your community.

How it works

- You transfer cash, appreciated stocks, real estate, or other assets into a trust and make our community foundation the irrevocable beneficiary
- The Charitable Remainder Trust allows you to arrange your gift today and receive an immediate tax receipt while enjoying the income, or use, of the gifted asset for your lifetime.
- Upon the beneficiary's death or after a defined period of years, the remaining assets in the trust transfer to the community foundation.
- You can establish a named endowment fund with the remaining assets in the trust.
- We handle all the administrative details after the fund is established, issuing grants to charities in the name of your fund.
- Earnings from your fund are used to make grants addressing community needs. Your gift and all future earnings from your gift, is a permanent source of community capital, helping to do good work forever.
- You can adjust the goals of your fund to suit your interests over time and leave the language in your will unchanged.

A gift that pays

James Assad was retired and in his late seventies. The stocks he owned had high market values, but they paid limited dividends. In addition to increasing his personal income, James was interested in giving back to the community in which he had lived his entire life. James decided to transfer his securities to a Charitable Remainder Trust that eventually would create a fund with his local community foundation. "The income I receive from the trust is more than what I was collecting in annual dividends," says James.

James also receives an immediate tax credit by making the community foundation the irrevocable beneficiary of the remainder.

"Plus," he says, "I know that when I pass on, I've done something good." In time, James' gift will create the Assad Family Unrestricted Fund to address ever-changing community needs.

Ten reasons people choose community foundations.

1. We are a local organization with deep roots in the community, and part of a nationwide movement whose support we build and share.
2. We bring donors to the table as community builders, working closely with them to align their philanthropic vision with the community's needs.
3. We identify long-term needs and opportunities and invest in solutions that let our communities guide their own future.
4. We take a broad and inclusive view of what a community is, and provide grants to the widest possible range of organizations and initiatives.
5. We provide highly personal and flexible service, accepting a wide variety of assets and offering donors maximum tax advantage.
6. We build permanent funds and those that can respond to immediate needs, helping our communities ensure vital futures.
7. We multiply the impact of gift dollars by pooling them with other gifts.
8. We believe that diversity is strength, so we bring the entire community together to stimulate new ideas, build participation and strengthen community philanthropy.
9. We are transparent and reputable stewards of community resources, committed to being accountable, accessible and responsive.
10. We build community vitality – the unique and essential spirit that flourishes when people believe their community holds possibilities for everyone.

Charitable Remainder Trust

“The income I receive from the trust is more than what I was collecting in annual dividends. Plus I know that when I pass on, I’ve done something good.”

James Assad

Types of Charitable Remainder Trusts

Charitable Remainder Trusts (CRT) can be established during the life (inter vivos) of the donor or through the will (testamentary). The donor may decide to establish a trust where the beneficiary may be changed (revocable) or make the decision permanent (irrevocable).

If the donor establishes a trust that meets the following conditions a charitable receipt may be issued by the beneficiary charity:

- Transfer is irrevocable
- The property must be held by the charity at the time of transfer
- Value of the residual interest is ascertainable
- No encroachment on capital and any administrative fees are to be paid from income of the trust

A Charitable Remainder Trust that is established during the life of the donor will not be subject to probate taxes.

Community means so many things to so many people and the world to us. In all we do, and all we say, we are all for community. We are part of Canada's community foundation movement, represented by more than 160 community foundations from coast to coast.

Community vitality has been our purpose, promise and passion since 1921, when community foundations began connecting donors to community needs and opportunities. Together, we help Canadians invest in building strong and resilient places to live, work and play.

